

Dear FCC, I recently started subscribing to XM Satellite Radio. The reason I subscribe to radio is because I am able to listen to things that I am unable to get on local radio, or unable to hear clearly because the station isn't strong enough, or has a license to go off of the air at sunset. I understand that the National Association of Broadcasters has a petition 04-160 to limit Sattelite radio. I would hope that you would reject this. Not only is it a first amendment issue, I look at it as a free market issue also. I am willing to pay for something that I am unable to get locally, and I feel it is my right to do so, and the option shouldn't be taken from me. Thank you, Terry Barile
